Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 13-14, and 16-17, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yoshimura et al.

Yoshimura et al discloses an image recording/reproducing apparatus that shows all the limitations recited in claims 13, and 16, including the feature of reproducing data from a medium on which multi-frame data and data of a number of frames comprising the multi-frame data are recorded (See Yoshimura et al's Figure 8, component 116), the feature of processing the multi-frame data on the basis of the data of the number of frames reproduced in the reproducing step wherein the multi-frame data represents a multi-frame composed of plural rectangular frames each being of the same size as specified in the present claims 13, and 18. (See Yoshimura et al's Figure 12, and column 10, lines 63-68).

With regard to claims 14, and 17, the feature of the medium being a disk-recording medium as specified thereof is present in Inoue et al. (See Yoshimura et al's Figure 8, component 116).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 15, and 18, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yoshimura et al in view of Official Notice.

Yoshimura et al discloses an image recording/reproducing apparatus that shows substantially the same limitations recited in claims 15, and 18, including the feature of recording multi-frame data on a recording medium as specified in the present claims 15, 18. (See Yoshimura et al's Figure 8, component 116).

Yoshimura et al fails to specifically disclose the feature of the multi-frame data as being compressed data as specified in the present claims 15, and 18.

Examiner takes Official Notice in that it is notoriously well known in the video recording/reproducing art to compressed image data before recording the same on the recording medium as specified in the present claims 15, and 18.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the Yoshimura et al's recording/reproducing apparatus wherein the recording/reproducing means provided thereof (See Yoshimura et al's Figure 8, component 140, 142, 116) would incorporate the capability of a compressing means for the purpose of compressing the image data before recording the same on the recording medium in the same conventional manner as is well known in the video recording art. Examiner has taken Official Notice. The motivation being to increase the recoding density of the recording medium as suggested in the prior art.
